

Title: Product Innovation Apprentice

Timing: June-August

Rate: Hourly

Mattress Firm is looking to partner with an innovative, creative mind to collaborate on a fresh take on product design. This person will work alongside the merchandising and marketing teams to learn what it takes to make the best mattresses in the industry and have their hand in designing an exclusive/limited line for Mattress Firm. This candidate will not only help with product development but will also help "launch" it into the marketing place, working alongside our social and content teams, developing a go to market plan and supporting assets. The ideal candidate has a strong creative portfolio, with an eye for product design and an added plus if they have experience in content creation and a strong social media presence.

This unique opportunity will not only be a win for the portfolio it will provide rich retail experience across both merchandising and marketing.
